
Title: Journal

Author: Toren Smythe

He ran into a man years back at the tavern "The Hungry Halfling". His name was Gregory Iron Hand. A genius of a tinker. He took Josha to a place speaking of all his inventions. He is presumed dead, or along those lines. If he recalls properly, however, his home is on the North Isle of Jehlom, of the Feluccian moon. We found his home and discovered a journal which I copied... we continue to await him.

Gregory Ironhand seems to believe the device harvests the power to destroy the worlds. The device is made with the attempt to reverse the effects of Blackrock. An absolute reflection of its capabilities... Their intentions... To detect the rock somehow, or to act as a magnate.